DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 18-20, 31-36, and 47-50 drawn to measuring electrodes or a biosensor, classified in class 204, subclass 403.01.
 - II. Claims 64-71, drawn to a method of making a pair of measuring electrodes, classified in class 427, subclass 2.11.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions Group I and Group II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make another and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process. For example, the nanopores in the insulation layer could be made without using nanoparticles, by electrochemical anodization instead, and the first electrode could be applied to the insulation layer rather than applying the insulation layer to the first electrode. See in Routkevitch et al. US

6,705,152 B2) Figure 1; col. 05:28-47; and col. 06:14-30. Note that support for this method may also be found in U.S. provisional application no. 60/242,905, which is the priority document for Routkevitch et al., on pages 74 (page 3 of Phase I Report: Combustible Gas Microsensor ...”), 25 (page 20 of SBIR Phase I Final Report: ...), 46 (page 8 of SBIR Phase I Final Report:...), 24 (page 19 of SBIR Phase I Final Report: ...), 13 (page 8 of SBIR Phase I Final Report: ...), and 21 (page 16 of SBIR Phase I Final Report: ...). Northrup et al. (US 5,882,496) also teaches making an insulating layer without using nanoparticles, by electrochemical etching instead and then applying electrodes to the insulation layer. See Figure 8 and col. 07:14-50.

3. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. A telephone call was made to John Carson on May 16, 2007 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

6. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to ALEX NOGUEROLA whose telephone number is (571) 272-1343. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F 8:30 - 5:00.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, NAM NGUYEN can be reached on (571) 272-1342. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
